Simon Clayton* - Compere

Simon Clayton has been a stand-up comic since 1995. On stage he talks about what he is: male, fat, mixed race, married, balding and anything else that currently makes him laugh. Although not necessarily in that order. He has performed nationwide. He is also a very experienced compere.

Allyson June Smith* - After disappointing her parents when she turned her back on teaching, Allyson Smith started performing comedy in 2000 in Canada, where she has been nominated for the Canadian Comedy Award for Best Female Stand-Up. She now lives in Manchester and has shared the stage with Katherine Ryan, Stewart Francis, John Bishop, Stephen Merchant, and Samantha Bee (The Daily Show).

Ben Norris* - Ben Norris is a highly experienced and hugely well-respected stand-up. He's been performing comedy since 1993 and is renowned for his incredibly relaxed stage persona and his innate ability to improvise as well as deliver sharply crafted material. His TV credits include 'Mock the Week', 'Never mind the Buzzcocks' and 'They think it's all over'. He's the cousin of actor Martin Freeman and also the father of triplets!

Alan Francis* - Scottish writer, stand-up and actor comedian Alan Francis first came to the notice of comedy audiences when he won Channel 4's So You Think You're Funny Award in 1991. He has written and starred in critically acclaimed productions at the Edinburgh Festival, and starred in numerous BBC television and radio comedy productions including Alistair McGowan's Big Impression and the Alexei Sayle Show.
