

A-level Psychology Super Curriculum

Read 	Do 	Find
Read the book: Opening Skinner's Box by Lauren Slater.	Research some of the most important psychological and interesting experiments: Elephants on Acid and other bizarre experiments. By Alex Boese.	Find examples of ethical debates - for example: Youtube Derren Brown - the push - is it ethical?
Read the book: Memory by Alan Baddeley, Eysenck and Anderson. A popular book on STM.	Listen to the podcast – Invisibilia. It explores the hidden forces that shape the way humans think and act.	Find an article on Should pro-eating disorder websites be banned? A collection of articles about the nature of pro-ana and pro-mia sites and whether their presence encouraged eating disorders.
Read the article: The edge of ethics: https://thepsychologist.bps.org.uk/volume-29/april/edge-ethics	Watch the TED talk - How reliable is your memory? by Elizabeth Loftus on accuracy of EWT	Find the TED talk: Feats of memory that anyone can do by Joshua Foer
Read the book: Bad Science by Ben Goldacre. This book lifts the lid on quack doctors, flaky statistics and scaremongering	Visit the Freud Museum in London (online or in person) and use this to consider how psychology has changed over time https://www.freud.org.uk/visit	Find and watch: The Real Rain Man - Documentary about Kim Peek - a man who memorised 12,000 books.
Read the article: https://opentextbc.ca/socialpsychology/chapter/reducing-discrimination/	Watch the TED talk What does the brain of a killer look like? by Jim Fallon. Looking at the genetic explanations of behaviour	Find two articles on aggression and compare them. Consider the research behind them and use them to lead a class debate.